FOOD TRAIN WRECK - - Tons of food strewn over the railway track when heavily laden train jumps the metals.

That's a train, that was ! It-- --jumped the track, while travelling at--
--more than fifty--
--miles per hour, and no self respecting train--
--can indulge in tricks like that with safety.
No-one was hurt, but ton--
--upon ton of food, and principally--
--sides of beef, was hurled over the countryside.
Several free--
--family means were found, but most of the cargo was retrieved, re-loaded and sent on to-- --its destination. Anyway, none of it was wasted !

Imagine if only that had been a train-load of eggs !
