OPEN AIR BOXING IN SCOTLAND - -

Thrilling battle between Johnny McMillan and Peter McKinlay in first big outdoors fight in Edinburgh.

-Portobello-

Pictura.:- Edinburgh's first open-air fight has attracted a big crowd. I--

--should say there are at least twelve-thousand people here.

Johnny McMillan is the favourite, although Peter McKinlay is well supported.

That looks like a hold by McMillan. Yes, the referee has cautioned him. McMillan is adopting rush tactics, but McKinlay is meeting his man with a solid defence. (PAUSE).

There are lots of women among the spectators.

They seem to be more thrilled than the males.

Another fairly heavy rush by McMillan - - nothing much happens - - An exchange of 'ding-dong' blows - - more pressure by McMillan - - one home to the mark, and McKinlay is down.

(EFFECTS).

Just saved by the gong, and--

--only just. The bout is scheduled for twelve rounds.

This is the seventh. McKinlay appears to be weakening slightly.

McMillan still seems comparatively fresh and is still attacking fiercely. Oh ! - -

McKinlay's down again for the count ! (EFFECT).

McMillan wins by a 'knock-out', so the public, and Peter, get a 'star' show !
