

3-8P5P51

PERILS OF MOUNTAINEERING - - Thrilling experience of party of young men whilst scaling slopes of longest glacier in America.

-Washington-

Picture.:-

Mountaineering is always a perilous sport. The Alps have-- --claimed eleven lives in the last month. This-- --party of town boys is tackling a well-known-- --glacier in America. It's a climb which has-- --tried--the nerves of the most-- --experienced Alpiners. Yawning crevasses are crossed over rocks slippery with ice. Foot-hold--

--is always precarious. A careless move may mean a fall of hundreds of feet to-- --perhaps death. Steps are cut in the solid glassy surface of the ice--

--field as the party toils upward - - one is down ! Another is wrenched from his foothold, and another ! Every roped man follows ! It's a nasty jerk, and a too thrilling slide. Luckily no bones are broken, but their pants have suffered badly.