BOXING IN MANCHESTER.

Fistic fireworks in battle between Jackie Brown and Valentine Angelmann at Belle Vue.

-Lancashire-

Picture:- Jackie Brown, Manchester, again meets Valentine Angelmann, the French flyweight champion. Jackie is in the striped shorts. Angelmann starts with whirlwind tactics.
Brown retreats. If this is anything like the fight--

--these boxers put up at Olympia--

--it will be a great show. There's a camera up in the roof to get a spider's eye view for you.

Brown is settling down to a stiff fight. I don't mean he's slowing up, because his--

--lightning blows are frequently finding the Frenchman's face and body. Looks like a love match, now & Somebody's yelling a foul. The referee separates them.

(CROWD EFFECT).

Brown is hammering the Frenchman good and hard, breaking through his opponent's defence with comparative ease. The pictures--

--from the cameramen in the roof, most unusual shots, by the -- --way should show when the blows connect, and the speed of delivery.

Angelmann is taking a lot of punishment on the body and the crowd begins cheering Brown-- --to an obvious win on points. The Frenchman is plucky and gives some--

--good flashing returns, but the decision goes to the Manchester boy, and the crowd goes mad.

(3 EFFECTS SHOTS).

A fine victory, and a fine defeat ! A great fight !
Jackie Brown is a great little boxer !
