of loyalty on the occasion of the 35th anniversary of the accession of Queen Wilhelmina of Holland.

This event has a special interest in view of the recent rumours of a Royal engagement. With the Queen, Wilhelmina of Holland, Princess Juliana drives into the arena surrounded by over one-hundred-thousand-- --of her subjects at The Hague. It is the 35th ceremony of the Queen's accession to the throne.

(EFFECTS).

Her Majesty is escorted to the microphone through which she is to speak to the Dutch people.

(PAUSE). Her Majesty the Queen thanks her subjects for their love and loyalty to her, and her Royal House, during her long reign. (PAUSE).

A political note is sounded. "The national thought" says Her Majesty, "is uniting us all. We desire to be ourselves, and to be remain so". Her energy is remarkable. Without doubt, it is a modern instance of a Queen loving her people.

(SOUND).

A brilliant spectacle follows. Patriotic floral devices are thrown, illustrating--

--the nation's unity, its devotion to the Royal Family, and its allegiance to the Dutch Constitution. Here is one-- --nation at least whose peaceful domestic life seems more or less unaffected by the swirling whirlpool of Europe's political troubles.
