GENTLEMEN CADETS - - The Duke of Connaught carries out his annual inspection of the future army officers, at the Royal Military College, Sandhurst.

-Camberley-

Picture:- Following the annual custom adopted for some years past, the Duke of Connaught, Senior Field Marshal--

--of the Army, (and uncle of His Majesty--

--the King), inspects the Gentlemen Cadets of Sandhurst on Church Parade.

(BRING UP MUSIC ON THIS AND 3 FOLLOWING SHOTS).

The March Past is carried out in slow time - - a model of military precision.

During the March Past, His Royal Highness saw his grandson, the Earl of Macduff, on parade--

--as a Sandhurst Cadet for the first time. ... (A rather unusual experience for both !)

(BRING UP MUSIC & MARCHING ON CLOSE-UP SHOT AND FOLLOWING SHOT)

They are a smart lot of fellows, these officers-to-be. ... Who says the army of to-day's not alright ?
