

HULL CIVIC WEEK.

Picture:--

Visiting the City of Hull for its Civic Week are twenty-two town Mayors, and six Lord Mayors, and that's not all ! When Sir Percy Greenaway, Lord Mayor of London, arrives, he brings with him the Lady Mayeress, Miss Greenaway, his Sheriffs and their wives. Hull's reception of them is enthusiastic. Only one thing's wrong ! It's raining like the dickens ! - - and looks as if it's going to keep on doing it ! Still, it's a brilliant spectacle. In fact, the golden state coaches make quite a splash.

Sir Percy Greenaway lays the foundation stone of the new Central Coach Station. Until recently the-- --site was covered by slums, but Hull's civic progressives-- --have altered all that. Crowds speed the-- --parting guests, although it's still raining like the - - er - - very heavily indeed ! Never mind ! It's a wet day, but Hull's a fine city !
