WEDDING      AT      S.T. MARGARET'S.

Picture.:-

The bride arrives. Miss Margaret Livingstone-Learmouth is due to become Mrs. Peter Wiggin in about five minutes. Her pearl-coloured train of angel-skin satin - -(sounds very exotic!) requires rather a lot of straightening out.

(EFFECTS).

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Wiggin emerge from the church door through an archway--

--of swords. They are held aloft, - - that is the swords, - - by warrant-officers of the bridegroom's regiment, the 11th Hussars.

The 27-feet of angel-skin satin train is flanked by some charming children; the boys wearing angel-skin satin trousers. The bride--

---is looking very attractive, and very happy about it all. A very picturesque wedding ! Not the least beautiful part of it--

--being the retinue of bridesmaids. Well, we hope Mr. and Mrs. will have lots of happiness !
