

NEWS IN BRIEF.

(1). Picture:- Britain's first rail-motor-coach makes its slowest journey. It can--

--move at umpteen miles per hour, but it's now doing about six, as passenger on a lorry. After exhibition at Olympia, to show the world as it were, it will start real work!

(2). Picture:- Newcastle students put on a star--

--show for charity. Exponents of all-in wrestling see all the stars. Urcha!

A comical gruesome guillotine suggests that those who are too mean to pay up, may get it in the neck.

(3). Picture:- Macro-Rhino-Leoninus (what a name to have a bath with!)--

--is the largest sea-elephant--

--in captivity. He used to be--

--really fat, but he's slimmed down to 4½-ton--

--now. That fish ought to have a good swim.

(4). Picture:- The wild and woolly West! Rounding up four million sides--

--of beef on one eighty-four thousand--

--acre ranch. To turn that lot into steak and onions--

--would require a smell long enough to reach from here to China!
