A DIVE IN FETTERS.

Picture:-

The scene is Lambeth Bridge on a cold-- --and frosty morning. The central figure is-- --a man in a bathing costume. His legs are chained and-- --his wrists are handcuffed. He can-- --move neither hand nor foot, and he dives. While under water he mysteriously escapes from his manacles Anyway it is his last-- --stunt if he doesn't. He has. The temperature of the water is forty degrees. That should chill his enthusiasm. He is Levante, the Australian illusionist, and sometimes makes-- --money by stunts of this kind. This time it may cost him something. The police are waiting to interview him. They -- --may decide that Lambeth Bridge is made to walk on, and not to jump off !.
