THE FLEET'S IN.

Picture.:-

Ships of war gather in the Firth of Forth. During manoeuvres --

--the Home Fleet is using Rosyth for its base. Nelson,--

--the most powerful naval unit--

--sailing the seas, is the flag ship of the Second Battle--

--Squadron. This is the-- --greatest naval concentration in the Forth since the surrender of the German Fleet in 1919. Local shop keepers are very pleased. It means increased business. Crews of the ships will number--

--more than fifteen-hundred, and special arrangements are being--

--made for their entertainment. On occasions girl friends--

--may visit the man on board, and on occasions--

--the men will visit their girl friends on shore.

The entertainment in both cases will be - - mind the point ! - -

--more or less of an intimate kind. Jack knows his--

--stuff, and there's magnificent Hood, the largest fighting ship--

--in the world.
