ISLAND'S NEW GOVERNOR.

Picture.:-

From the bridge of the vessel taking him--
--to the Isle of Man, Sir Montague Butler sees--
--for the first time the Island he is to govern.

The Island's castle clock dates from-- --1597, and still tells the-- --time. His Excellency the Governor dressed--
--for parade, enters the ancient castle where the ceremony of swearing in is--
--to be performed. The oath sworn by the Governor--
--is of remarkable antiquity. Sir Montague Butler--
--is now Lieutenant-Governor and Captain-General of-- --the Isle of Man. and for this auspicious day the local brewery has supplied the town with free beer.
