Picture:- The Kirking o' the Cooncil. It's an old--

--Scottish custom. Lord-Provost Thompson and the new Edinburgh city fathers follow the helberdiers and sword bearers. It's not--

--so risky as walking in front. See the point. ~~A pointed remark!~~

Picture:- Grooming a horse with a feather duster. Rather--

--light treatment for a mag carrying a Greek god.

It's a plaster cast by <sup>the late</sup> G.F. Watts,--

--from which the bronze statue--

--was made for the Cecil Rhodes memorial in Capetown. A live--

--horse would be tickled to death by that duster.
