

EAT MORE FISH.

Picture.

Introducing a group of knock-kneed flappers !
Don't get annoyed, girls !! It's the penguins at the Zoological Park, Edinburgh, I'm burbling about !
They have heard the dinner gong, and they mean to be in time for the fish course. They're gluttons for fish. So much so that-- --even the most ladylike of them can't show the slightest suggestion of a waist-line. They always--

--stand up for their meals and for everything else.

Hello ! That one has lost his meal ticket !

Their peculiar build makes resting easy. To-- --sit down they just keep standing up. It saves so much trouble. There's a slight argument over the piece of-- --haddock. They usually prefer to swim rather than walk. It's so difficult to spot a nettle !
