PRINCE GEORGE AT BIRMINGHAM.

Picture.:-

Birmingham people are both saving money and spending it.

Prince George is coming to-day to congratulate them--
--on doing both so well. There he is being guided through the immense crowd by Brum's Lord Mayor Alderman Goodby.

The big show is the opening--

--of the new head-office of Birmingham's Municipal Bank which Prince George does with the usual silver key. The Bank owes its inception to the Chancellor of the Exchequer Mr. Chamberlain. After fourteen years--

--its has 360-thousand depositors who--

--have a total of 15 $\frac{1}{2}$ -million--

--pounds to their credit, and to me that sounds like a lot of money. 38-thousand--

--pounds has been spent on this new Savings Bank building. That surely proves its success, but it's a--

--successful lending bank I'm looking out for !
