(1). Picture:- Chicago is on the war path. University--
 --freshmen are going to-- --battle with the second-year men in their-- --annual contest of muscle - - with a ball--
 --that is a ball. Still, I suppose--
 --it's just a small one for America. That's over-- --their heads, and for all this fun--
 --the prize is to be a keg. Nothing in it ! It's an empty--
 --beer keg. Now if it had been full !

(2). Picture:- Don't steal this man's milk! His business is-- --to cry "Milk-oh !". But his hobby is to make others--
 --gasp'oh'!, without milk ! Oekey Davies is out for the middleweight--
 --championship of Wales. Well, prompt delivery is everything.

(3). Picture:- It looks cold for the time of year.
 But it's not so cold as all--
 --that. This is where fire and snow--
 --work together. As the soap-suds, or whatever it is
 --falls on anything burning, it stifles the flames by excluding air. German--
 --fire brigades are being equipped--
 --with gear to use this invention--
 --instead of water. Ready for the next fire trial !

 --itself. But the kiddies with some-- --grown-ups helping them, arranged to have-- --a bridge party on their own. With a balloon apiece they all--
 --trooped across the new bridge, declaring it open and--

--that's more or less that. Then each receives a-- --souvenir mug. Very appropriate ! Shouting is a dry job !

Picture :- Mr. Geher, of Chessington, won ten-thousand pounds--

--in the Irish Sweep. He was an unemployed navy, so he bought--

--himself a job. He bought this land, so that he could chop--

--down trees, or not. His wife says he bought contentment, too. Love in a-- --cottage - - at his time of life.
