

ROYAL VISIT TO DUNDEE.

Picture.:-

To-day Dundee has a Royal day; Prince George has a busy one, and--

--the inhabitants have a thrilling one.

It isn't every day they see a Prince and a Lord Provost all in one--

--er - - eyeful ! The City officials are presented--

--to His Royal Highness, including one member of the fair sex.

Prince George is opening this new City Square and--

--the new City Chambers. Ten-thousand citizens come-- --to the show, but some only see the hats of the--

--tall people in front - - until the Prince mounts--

--the balcony. Then all is well ! Twenty years ago--

--the King and Queen laid the foundation stone--

--of the scheme which sees its completion to-day.

After fulfilling nearly a score of local engagements,--

--Prince George is free to leave, and Dundee's thoughts again turn to jute and marmalade.
