NATURAL SOUND.

Very soon you are likely to see this intelligent animal as a film star. He's under contract with Hollywood, and is being taken over almost immediately to play in his first picture. As Hollywood dogs don't like publicity, I won't mention his name.

NATURAL SOUND.

He sticks to bandits as tight as scandal sticks to a pretty widow. He's-- --already practising climbing the ladder of fame and--

--finds it not too difficult. He may not possess the usual type of screen face, but what he lacks in that, he will make up in intelligence. Take a seat! Now stand up again! Stand up! Look at that! One word from me, and he does as he likes.
