

2-220071

ON THE ICE.

Picture.:- Jack Frost gives the public a chance to use their skates once again. Fire-sides--

--are deserted and Londoners slide off to the several available ponds. Most exhilarating exercise, if you can only stand up to it. Quite a lot sit down, and get a cold reception. Someone--

--says this has been the coldest December for 58 years, and I'm quite ready to believe it. They're playing safety, but--

--this girl takes a chance. Hem ! Hem ! A balanced and graceful wench forsooth. She cuts a 'nice' figure.

An improvised teamplay an improvised - - er - er -- extremes meet - - an improvised game of hockey at Wimbledon Common. It's great fun, isn't it - - not ? That's a black mark on his reputation as a player !