JACK COMES ASHORE.

Picture. :- And that's the last time the liberty men will--

--hear that for a while. To-morrow morning they will be awakened by the-- --buzz of an alarm clock, or a nudge, tell an imaginary 'bosun to go to - - oh, any place, and turn over for another snooze.

And their presents don't include one parrot in a cage. Well I-- --never ! This is their last parade before actually--

--starting leave. A Petty Officer tells them what to do.

As if a handy-man didn't know. For a couple of weeks they have-- --done with battleships and heaving seas. It's yo-ho for--

--some trim little craft and a rest on the permanent wave.
