

HOLIDAY HUNTING.

MEET OF THE COTSWOLD HOUNDS.
"ON THE PROM", AT CHELTENHAM.

Picture.:-

Framed by ancient guns captured at Sebastopol, is the scene of the ancient sport of fox-hunting.
Cheltenham's much praised-- --street, said to rank second only in beauty to Princes' Street, Edinburgh, sees the holiday meet of the Cotswold Hounds . The frosty ground will still make hard going, but if the run is not likely to be too good, the stirrup cup--

--is of the very best. Cheering consolation. The hounds are having a good time, too - - the hounds !

They know a good scent when they smell one.
'Foxy&--

--fellows they are. This petting party is all very well, but there's--

--serious work ahead. Somewhere out in the woods is a fox to be scared out of its home and chased over hill--

--and dale. Tallyho ! The cavalcade moves off.
The chase is on ! The hunt is up, and here's luck - - to the fox !
