

TALLY HO! TALLY HO!!

HIGH PEAK HUNT.
STONE WALL OBSTACLES.
-Buxton-

Picture:- The Crescent, Buxton, forms a charming setting for the--

--meet of the High Peak Hunt, although the strong and biting wind doesn't make waiting about too pleasant. Lady--

--Maud Bailey, eldest daughter of the Duke of Devonshire,--

--is the Master, or Mistress, of the Hunt. And now, off to the hills and the stone wall jumps of the Peak district.

Tally-ho ! There's the hare, with the hounds close on-- --its track. Over the wall, and up the steep hillsides. There's not a--

--very full attendance of huntsmen. The fact that the Hunt Ball didn't end until five o'clock this morning may account for the absentees.

But for the stalwarts, the high spot is the Hunt.
Yoicks !
