PRINCE GEORGE
SALES.

VISIT TO SOUTH AFRICA.
BRITAIN SAYS "BON VOYAGE".

-Southampton-

Picture.:-

A few hours after the 'MAJESTIC' was docked,--

--the Prince of Wales and Prince George alighted at a Southampton quayside to--

--board the Carnarvon Castle. Prince George--

--embarks to-day for his 17,000--

--miles tour as King's representative, and we wish him luck. Africa is his objective. He will-- --be away some three months. Sounds like a long holiday, but as he goes on a diplomatic mission, he will be lucky--

--if he's not overworked during his absence from Britain.
However, he will come-- --back for a rest before commencing his already arranged tour in the-- --autumn. Although you saw the Prince of Wales go on board with his-- --brother, don't think he's gone with him. We are unable to show him leaving the ship because the authorities decided otherwise.
