RIOTING IN HAVANA.
WILD SCENES IN THE STREETS.
MANY HURT AS NEW PRESIDENT IS INSTALLED.
-Cuba-

---

Picture.:- Beautiful Cuba starts getting ugly--

--again. Grou San Martin, President since September is forced-- --out by a new revolutionary coup, and his successor-- --Carlos Hevia takes office. The Army congratulates him, but his job is about as-- --comfortable as sitting on a volcano. Bloody revolt--
--is still seething. Faction is openly pitted against faction.
Business is at a standstill.

The only things being sold are food stuffs and bullet proof waistcoats.

A call for troops is speedily answered. Truck loads--
--of soldiers under Colonel Batista, head--
--of the Cuban Army, are-- --rushed to the explosive spots. Armoured cars help--
--in dispersing the insurgents, and keeping the tense situation from getting uglier than ever.

But it's an easy job.

Rioting is inevitable. As soon as it starts, machine guns spray--

--the streets and men are shot down--

--right and left. Father against son,--

--brother against brother, and while this goes on the new President resigns, and a still newer one takes his place. Where will it all end ?
