

THE INDIAN EARTHQUAKE.

FURTHER VIVID PICTURES.
APPEAL ON BEHALF OF THE VICTIMS.
-India and London-

---

(Mr. Jeffrey)

At least nine-thousand lives were lost, and whole towns reduced to vast heaps of wreckage in the terrible Indian earthquake. The full story of the disaster was published, and published exclusively, by UNIVERSAL NEWS in our last issue. An empire-wide appeal is being made for funds to alleviate the appalling sufferings of the survivors.

And in this connection I have the honour to introduce to you the Lord Mayor of London, Sir Charles Collet:

(Sir Charles Collet).

I earnestly hope that everybody will endeavour to support the appeal I am making on behalf of the Viceroy's Earthquake Fund in India.

We here in Britain can hardly realise the extent of the damage that has been done, or the extent of the suffering of the countless homeless.

I have already spoken at the Mansion House to a man back from India, and he tells me of his township where no single house is left standing.

The Mansion House will, I feel sure, never appeal in vain to the people of this country on behalf of those who suffer.
