CAVALCADE OF COMEDY
CARNIVAL OF CANNES

-France-

---

Picture:-

Cannes, the City of Flowers overlooking the blue Mediterranean celebrates its season with the usual magnificent carnival. Birds of all sorts are in the show, of course, and gigantic grotesque ~~gi~~ figures. Here's one with the smiles that won't come off. It's immense size is shown by contrast with the real people on the back.

Ah!-Ah! The Undertakers have called for the body. My hat! "Have you ever seen a dream walking" ? What is this? Oh! Yes, a butcher about to stick a pig! Cheery blighter. What a smell that nose must have. This dope dream procession is only to start the ball rolling. It's not until the evening that King Carnival really holds court and then, well you can't hear yourself speak for girls popping corks and men popping questions. Everybody is awfully agreeable. There are not can'ts at Cannes.
