

2-025041

ON THE ROCKS -- AND OFF!

GERMAN STEAMERS EXPERIENCE.
TUGS RE-FLOAT STRANDED VESSEL.

-Near Leith-

Picture.:-

Twenty German seamen get on the rocks off Leith,-- --Scotland. Their ship, the 'MARION TRABER', bound from Leith--
--to Oslo ran aground at Inehkeith Island. Now the-- --salvage tugs are taking her in hand in an-- --attempt to haul 'Marion' out of the sticky position--
--the poor girl has got into. The ship is badly--
--holed below the water line, and if this-- --effort is unsuccessful, a total wreck is feared. The pumps--
--keep going, while the tugs start chugging, and the cables take the strain.

The tugs are now pulling, and 'Marion' begins--
--to shiver. One-thousand tons of coal have been jettisoned to lighten--
--her load, and she moves ! The damaged lady will be escorted back to Leith for examination and repairs.