P.C. "V. C.'S"

PLUCKY POLICEMEN.
MANCHESTER'S PRIDE.

-Lancashire-

Picture.:-

Well may Manchester be proud of its police force. It has more--

--official heroes to the square yard of blue tunic--

--than any other in the country.

P.C. Yeates has been awarded the King's Medal,--

--the bobbies' blue ribbon, the V.C. of the Service.

Constable Yeates showed great courage (he doesn't really like my saying this, so I will repeat it) - showed great courage by plunging--

--into the River Irwell and saving a drowning--

--man. P.C. Heskitt dived into the Rochdale Canal and he rescued a drowning man. He also caught four burglars-- --single-handed, and stopped a run-away horse by a spectacular dive at its head, and--

--all that within a month,--

--so His Majesty presented him with the King's Medal. After all, there's something about a bobby that is fine, fine ! fine !
