KATE KENNEDY DAY.

ST. ANDREW'S PAGEANT.
MALE STUDENT AS "KATE".

Picture.:-

Hats off to Kate Kennedy of St. Andrew's !
She died centuries ago, but what should we do for amusement and holidays if we did not recussitate some of these long-dead folk occasionally. In the days long before women were hold enough to become University students, Lady Katherine--

--Kennedy ministered to the wants of the students, all males, of ancient St. Andrew's. That is she watched over their spiritual welfare. She grew so far renowned for good works that her name and fame are perpetuated by this annual celebration. Other historical--

--figures of the period follow her to the Town Hall, where Kate is given a civic reception. The occasion is now made--

--one for a charity drive, so Kate, long-dead, thus continues her good works.
