WASHING DAY.

AID FOR MOTHERS.
EDINBURGH'S SCHEME.

-Scotland-

Picture.:-

This is another blow in the battle of more-- --freedom for mothers. While the mother is away,-- --the children can play. Happily, and in safety. Having-- --parked the kiddies in the Creeche provided by Scotland's most modern wash-house, the mothers can now-- --rinse the 'smalls' in peace. Edinburgh is responsible for this clean, helpful, scheme. Everything necessary for washing, drying,--
--and mangling is to hand, with most-- --of the heavy work done by machinery. Clothes can-- --be washed, dried and pressed within half-an-hour. Thirteen-thousand pounds was the cost-- --of the enterprise. No more back-garden exhibits for the neighbours--
--to scandalise about, and it's always a good drying day here. No more need Father-- --curse turning the mangle on his afternoon off. He can go to his football--
--match. He can go in a clean shirt if he likes.
