Meet Miss Joan Hughes, Master Victor Ottley, and their flying instructor.

Victor has his helmet fastened by his kid-sister. -- er, young sister ! , Eileen. Victor--

--has suddenly jumped into the news. Only fourteen years old, he is already an aeroplane pilot.

His air exploits have caused someone--

--to look up the laws of flying. This has led-- --to the discovery that if a--

--child of five wants to fly there is--

--no law to prevent the babe risking it. This has caused much flustered fluttering in official--

--circles, and memos passed to you for attention are multiplying. The question is being asked in Parliament. So Joan Hughes--

--fifteen years of age, and Victor Ottley, fourteen have properly put the official cat among the pigeons. Still, mother is relieved to--

--welcome her boy back to earth, and the law on-- --the matter will soon be adjusted, and rightly so.
