

INTERNATIONAL FOOTBALL.

ENGLAND VERSUS SCOTLAND.
90,000 'FANS'.

-Wembley-

Scotland for ever! and thirty thousand Scotsmen can't be --- wrong; and sixty thousand Englishmen. It is like the battle of Bannockburn----

---as usual the teams come out together and the Northern crowd sing ---"Scots wha hae"-- and "after the Ball"-----

----Three Arsenal players are in the---

---English teams; and there's the kick-off. (EFFECTS) --- ---England forces the play to the Scottish goal. There's some hot moments for Scotland; Crooks centres. The ball is headed away----

---nicely by Anderson, I think it was. ~~xxxxxxx~~

----- Another shot over the bar saved by Jackson-----

-----Scotland's defence is excellent and their ~~etc~~ play very bold---

---in attack. Brook, I think, takes a shot but sends the ball wide---

---There are two hundred thousand ----

---bottles of beer provided, and the crowd will want--- ---them after their vocal efforts. Its no' enough. Probably not, but there ----

---are more outside. Brook has the ball and centres; Bastin receives it, shoots and finds the net- ----

EFFECTS

---the final result is; Scotland, One--England, Three.
Scotland played a fine game; the Scots are eye bonny fechtors.
