

MAY DAY IN FRANCE.
COMMUNIST DEMONSTRATION
CLASH WITH POLICE.

-Vincennes-

Picture.:-

May Day used to mean maypoles, ribbons, dancings, and what-nots. Times have changed. May Day is not now a play day, but--

--Labour Day as well. Parisian workers celebrate May 1st--

--with a giant procession along the Bouvelard Poniatski.

The workers' sign of the upraised clenched fist--
--is prominent, and kiddies are not absent from the-- --demonstration. Some seventy-thousand people gather in the Bois de Vincennes, some taking a-- --lofty view of the-- --affair to attend the mass--

--meeting, but the gendarmerie have other views. High authority has given--

--instructions that after having said their little say the demonstrations must disperse quietly. The majority accepting the ruling and made their peaceful way home,--

--but a few got annoyed. Hence the sprinting police - voila !