THE FLEET SAILS.

ON SUMMER CRUISE.
MAJESTIC SPECTACLE.

Picture.:-

Portsmouth Harbour. H.M.S. 'NELSON' steams out leading the Home--

--Fleet on its summer cruise. Seven-million-five-hundred thousand pounds worth--

--of the nation's capital is locked up in that marvellous mass of gliding steel. On this cruise Admiral Sir William Boyle's Fleet--

--will total nearly fifty units. The cruiser "CURACOA"--

--is another one on the half century list. The ships are now off to--

--Portland. Scapa Flow is their ultimate destination, but before going there they will pay visits to several ports. Historic--

--Plymouth being one of them. Submarines bring up--

--the van as they pass Drake's Island. I wonder what the spirit of Sir Francis thinks of modern craft like these,--

--that is if a ghost can think.
