

STUDENTS HAVE FUN.

PREPARING FOR CHARITY "RAID".

Picture.:-

Organisation is the key-note of success in modern life. And the very modern students of--

--London University College--

--Hospital thoroughly rehearse their stunts prior to placing them before the public. This cow for instance crosses at a Belisha Beacon but knocks--

--over a defenceless motorist, cranking his ear and lands him in hospital per stretcher. Several things being--

--taken down in evidence against him.

The Loch Ness monster having been murdered--

--by journalists and common consent,--

--the students have created this dragon.

Somebody said centipede, but I don't know. Its kind face should attract money--

--anyway. The idea--

--of using the University's mascot, Phineas--

--the Scotsman is excellent.

Scotsmen always make money.

The Hospital is appealing--

--for one-hundred-thousand pounds, --

--to extend its Maternity and Infant Welfare Departments.

A great and necessary work.
