KNITTING TIME.

WINTER ON THE WAY.

Picture:--The woolly season has commenced. Nearly everything we touch is woolly, and everything which touches us nearly is woolly. One of the two things a girl's lap will willingly support is a--

--skein of wool. And that's--

--what these new season's frocks, jumpers, skirts and what-nots are made from. To the mere male eye--

--they're all more or less the same, but practically every girl--

--will notice the differences in design of style and knitting. Of course that raises--

--the old discussion "Should a woman tell?" Another knitty problem, knotty problem. Of course that's awful, but would--

--modern care for this style? Our newest model is--

--complete with jabot making a big and tucker quite unnecessary. We did--

--have a very beautiful model, but she left to better herself. Nice girl she was too.

But a nous moutons. Jerseys, I--

--mean. At this--

--time of year we cannot help thinking of Switzerland. And that's what the artist who designed this setting was thinking of. Everything made that clear. Take a glance at a winter sports outfit. Very attractive--

--model, introduced by a friend of mine, you wouldn't know anyway.
