"MINNEWASKA" IN SHIPBREAKERS' HAND.

Picture. :-

It took nearly two-thousand men nearly two years to build this ship.

It will take about a quarter of that--

--number of men and that time to reduce her to scrap.

The liner 'MINNEWASKA' is not suffering from excessive age. She is only eleven years old, but she is too expensive to keep.

Her appetite is too great. She is not fast enough--

--for a modern dame. She cost one million and a--

--quarter to build, and her reduced sale price in the shipyards' bargain basement was only £25,000, and--

--the breakers paid it. Well, many worse bargains have been-- --made which cost only 7/6d, and can't be scrapped.
