

2-821171

BATTLE OF LIVERPOOL.

STUDENTS IN ACTION.

---

Picture.:-

All this schemozzle started over a fictitious person, by the name of 'Sister Jane'. Some bright lad presented a doll of that name to the students of--

--Liverpool University. The engineers gang of hillarious student bandits of-- --charity collectors secured it. And the opposition gang thereupon conceived an all-consuming passion for Sister Jane's person. The peer--

--girl is somewhere in the middle of the battle. When it started,--

--she was neatly and fully dressed. Now she looks as if she had been dragged from her boudoir before she--

--could throw on a few nick-nacks and shout 'Time, Gentlemen, please !' The war is--

--waged with ammunition consisting of extremely over-ripe fruit, cods' heads, severed--

--from bodies long--

--since dead, soot, etc. But before this happened the students collected huge sums of money for Liverpool Hospitals. But these Hospitals can do nothing for Sister Jane.