

WORLD ICE HOCKEY CHAMPIONS.

CANADA DEFEATS GREAT BRITAIN.

Picture.:-

Canada versus Britain in the fastest game in the-- --world - ice hockey. This hotly contested match took place a thousand, or two-- --feet above sea level at Davos, Switzerland. Here's a lovely pass by Canada, but a British player--

--intercepted the bully, got away, and was beaten on the line. Canada again took charge and made a wonderful advance, carrying the attack almost to the British goal. No score resulted. The defence woke up--

--just in time. The speed and mobility of the Canadians was terrific and in spite of great efforts from Britain's side, they established their play as definitely superior.

Here the camera shows this fast game in slow motion.

Canada finally secured the world's ice-hockey championship; Britain being beaten by six goals to nil.
