

PREPARING FOR EMERGENCIES.

POLICE HORSES IN TRAINING.

Picture.:-

Teaching shy horses not to shy. Berlin Police--
--remounts are trained to like flag-wagging,--
--but somebody has forgotten something. Where is the Nazi Swastika ?

They don't seem to object to motor-cycles, but perhaps their sense of smell is defective.

Getting used to fire is not so easy. The horse's-- --initial fear of heat, smoke and fire is-- --perhaps instinctive. An unconscious memory of blazing prairies--
--fled in terror by their ancestors may still persist, who knows ?

Dealing with crowds of rioters is not-- --forgotten. That training may be very essential for German police horses. The foot-- --police represent the mob being forced back by mounted units. It's then column--
--of route for home, and the beer garden, - - or have they all been closed by order.
