

2-525141

Picturē.:- Meanwhile the peaceful village of--

--Sherringham, Bucks, receives distinguished visitors.

The editors of the journals issued by the students of-- --the rival universities of Oxford and--

--Cambridge conduct a very serious ceremony round the village pump. With great tongue in cheek reverence, the pump is decorated with a garland of olive leaves, emblem--

--of peace between the rival striped seats of-- --learning. Editors unburden themselves of non-aggressive sentiments. O si sic omnes, and--

--proceed to--

--deposit orations of peace in said pump trough. A sort of drowning the hatchet.

In pari materia ! A final--

--address is read with--

--more pomp, and on its conclusion--

--said peace pledged editors--

--advance to parish pump with right arm outstretched--

--in token of unfeigned--

--good fellowship. A dove--

--of peace, suspected of pigeon parentage is released.

At this point the village--

--Inn was discovered, and all thereto advanced--

--ex mero moto to pledge themselves once again.