ROYAL COLONEL-IN

CHIEF.

PRINCE WITH WELSH GUARDS.

---

Picture. :-

His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales returned from winter-sports at Kitzbuhel,--

--attends parade as Colonel-in-Chief of the--

--Welsh Guards. This particular show is the St. David's Day Celebration. Every officer and man is presented with a leek, the national--

--emblem, and most highly scented fruit of Wales.

Rather a strong scent to be mixed with the delicate airs--

--obtained from the country's other--

--emblem - - the harp. (EFFECT).

(EFFECTS - 3 SHOTS).

The march-past of the youngest Guards--

--is led by the Old Comrades, whose bravery--

--in battle caused the Regiment's formation in 1915.
