Picture.:-

To H.M.T.S.--

--Monarch, lying off Woolwich, goes His Majesty's P.M.G.,--

--Sir Kingsley Wood. With him he carries--

--the medal of the Order of the British Empire, which, as representative--

--of the King he is to decorate Mr.J.Campbell,--

--Second Steward of the Ship.

Mr. Campbell has served in--

--Post Office Cable ships for-- --more than half a century. With a--

--few well chosen words, Sir Kingsley Wood pins on the henseforth to be--

--treasured order.

On One occasion at least--

--Mr. Campbell has felt the ship sink under him. That was a narrow escape in 1915, but here is memorable recompense--

--for fifty years of devotion to duty.
