

THE SECOND LEVEE.

PRINCE DEPUTIES FOR THE KING.

---

Picture.:- One of London's most --

--popular side-shows--

--attracts crowds to--

--St.James's Park. His Majesty's Second Levee of the season. The escort of Guards, the brilliant gold and scarlet state coach, the accoutrements of kingship which always give a thrill, even though it may be only a temporary one.

His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales is deputising for the King, who is still at Eastbourne on holiday. The Levee--

--is, of course being held at St.James's Palace. As--

--you may not see the Prince very clearly, I will mention that he is in the uniform of Colonel-in-Chief of the Seaforth's, tartan--

--sash across scarlet tunic.

A picturesque ensemble.

Accompanying His Royal Highness, both going to, and returning from St.James's is the Earl of Granard, Master of the Horse. Their Majesties--

--the King and Queen are expected back in London in a few days, probably--

--to remain at Buckingham Palace in order to deal with the increasing volume of work caused-- --by the approach of the--

--Jubilee celebrations. For the-- --moment the Palace gates close, and London carries on.
