

SMOKE SCREENS.

AIRCRAFT CARRIER "BLOTTED OUT".

Picture.:-

The United State's Navy's giant aircraft carrier 'SARATOGA' takes--

--part in important manoeuvres. Destroyers throw smoke-screens round the--

--3-thousand tons ship, in order that she may launch her squadron of mechanical eagles in safety. This amazing--

--ship is manned by two-thousand officers and men, and carries--

--no less than 20 'planes. She is probably the-- --most expensive warship in service, having cost the colossal--

--sum of nine-million pounds to build and complete.

(EFFECTS - UNTIL PLANES RETURN).

Watch the machines land on her vast deck. Their landing speed is checked by trip cable which stops them--

--almost as soon as their undercarriage touches the runway. The ship--

--is another arresting example of our wonderful modern progress. That's one name for it, anyway.
