WEDDING BELLS.

RING FOR EARL JELlicoe'S DAUGHTER.

---

Picture.:-

All Souls Church, Langham Place, --

--is again the scene of--

--an interesting wedding. Earl Jellicoe, Admiral of the Fleet, escorts his daughter Lady Norah Jellicoe, to the venue of her marriage. Lady Norah is to be joined in holy matrimony with Mr. Edward Rhys Wingfield, of the 60th--

--Rifles. The interior of the-- --Church has been lavishly--

--decorated with--

--British Legion poppies and massed bunches of yellow irises.

The bride is gowned in cream satin, with veil threaded with gleaming gold, and she--

--carries a bouquet of orchids.

Earl Paulett, cousin of the bridegroom is best--

--man, and everybody wishes the couple the best of everything.
