(3). Picture.:- Now we trot over to France for-- --a little trotting. The-- --tiny town of Pontivy, in Brittany, (costumes prove-- --authenticity), holds its annual trotting race. It's a round-the-houses course, teaming--
--with difficult twists and corners, and occasionally-- --quite Brooklands like accidents happen. Last year Aunt Lulu's--
--cat raced a trotter across the road, and lost. And look at that! He's broken his record and busted his hopes, I'll warrant!

But the race is still on! The stirring-- --event is won by the local champion - -(pardon, the horse objects) - - by the local champion's horse.

(4). Picture.:- And here are 24 horses parading--
--before beauty and fashion--
--at the famous Auteuil Race-- --Course. Twenty-four are now started in the race for the prize presented by Monsieur Lebrun-- --President of the French Republic. (EFFETS - 3 SHOTS).

Monsieur Rene Bedel's 'Bulan' wins, with the pari-mutuel betting at five francs--

--to 112. 32-1. Not bad!
