ROYAL VISITORS TO

EDINBURGH.

DUKE AND DUCHESS OF YORK.

Picture.:- In Cardiff the Prince of Wales ! In Belfast the Duke of Gloucester, and in Edinburgh the Duke of York. With--

--the Duke has come his Duchess to honour the Scottish Capital's day of Jubilee pageantry.

Thus the King's three--

--sons represent His Majesty in three capitals. Pigeons are released, carrying--

--a message of loyalty to Buckingham Palace. Her Royal Highness chats with crippled cubs, who have been brought to have their-- --share of this Jubilee Children's Day. Various displays which the Royal Visitors attend are given by juvenile-- --organisations. In Princes Street the-- --Duke of York inspects the guard-of-honour before settling down to see the Schools--

--Pageant of no less than 50 tableaux. There's 'Treasure Island',--

--the 'League of Nations', with Peace as central figure.

And a host of others ! One of many thrills--

--for the kiddies was the accepting of cheques by the Duchess of amounts subscribed--

--by school-children to His Majesty's Jubilee Trust Fund.
