WARSHIPS COME TO TOWN.

Picture.:- Ships of war in the Thames. 'KEMPENFELT', last word in--
--torpedo destroyers, passes under Tower Bridge, and comes to anchor--
--off the Tower. Well, between the-- --Tower and London Bridge. Lower down--
--the river, the destroyers 'FEARLESS' and 'FORESTER' drop anchor off Greenwich. They--

--will make Greenwich Pier a popular place--
--for the Thames Navy Week. Now on to-- --Gravesend. (This--
--picture is a Thames tour), where the cruisers--
--'ORION', 'LEANDER', and 'NEPTUNE' are to be seen. A flight--
--down to Shoeburyness - - Southend will do, where an imposing--
--line of battleships is anchored. 'RODNEY', 'VALIANT',--
--and half-a-dozen others. This air trip over 'HODD', the world's largest fighting ship, is rather a thrill !

The whole coast along here is going gay. Visitors to--
--Southend will find the town en fete--
--to receive them, and the seven-thousand--
--officers and men of--
--'NELSON' and her--
--companions at anchor during their stay. It's going--- --to be a great week. Another Jubilee treat. Everybody will be doing--
--it. Join the world, and see the Navy. Any more for the 'Skylark'.
