BRITAIN'S BIG SHOP

VISITED BY PRINCE OF WALES.

---

Picture.:- The Prince of Wales once again demonstrates his practical interest in the industries of Britain. With Birmingham's Lord Mayor,--

--and other City officials,--

--His Royal Highness views the exhibits, of which there are many thousands,--

--of varied character. Yes, I'm sorry about this. It's--

--just too bad to infer that the lady is an exhibit.

The Prince flew to Birmingham in his new eight-seater--
--'plane, using it for the first time. He sees much--

--to claim his thoughtful attention; the work of ex-service men gaining special attention.

His Royal Highness quickly observed many improvements upon--

--last year's Exhibition, and congratulated the organisers on them. The-- --almost human, but--

--entiring mechanical navy came in for some admiration,--

--with its uncanny ingenuity. The Prince's visit--

--to the Fair is a matter for great appreciation.
